

能・What is Noh ?

An intriguing workshop by a Noh master from Japan

The Noh is a Japan's traditional theater art which has evolved over more than eight centuries. Transmitted from generation to generation, it has cristalized into a most sophisticated form of performing arts today. The movements of actors are often stylistic and slow, musical instruments are very special, and chants (chorus) are deep and poetic, thus creating an profound atmosphere called "Yugen".

Sakurama Ujin, one of Japan's leading Noh masters, will present an intriguing work shop on this very esoteric performing art. Ujin is the 21st generation inheritor of the Sakurama Noh family. He will talk about Noh, show gorgeous costumes and explain about masks. Spectators may be invited on stage to try out the outfits or practise some Noh movements under the guidance of the Noh Master.
